

DEPARTMENT OF BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

PROGRAM IN PUBLIC HEALTH

ALPERT MEDICAL SCHOOL OF BROWN UNIVERSITY

The Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences in the Brown University Program in Public Health is searching for a tenure-track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in obesity prevention/treatment, with a preferred focus on children and/or on prevention/treatment in community-based settings. An emphasis on underserved populations is also highly desirable. This position is part of a multi-year expansion plan for Public Health at Brown and is available as early as July 1, 2012. A doctoral degree in a Behavioral and/or Social Science (or another degree with experience in behavioral research) is required.

All applicants should send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to Christopher W. Kahler, Ph.D., Chair of Behavioral and Social Sciences Search Committee, Brown University, Department of Behavioral and Social Sciences, Box G-S121-5, Providence RI 02912; or send by email to Christopher\_Kahler@brown.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2011. Full consideration will be given to all applications received by February 1, 2012. Applications received after the priority deadline may be reviewed until the position is filled or the search is closed.

Brown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and actively solicits applications from women and minorities.
